

Corporate Profile for Plain Black Corporation

Plain Black Corporation develops the WebGUI (pronounced Web-Gooey) content management system, the most versatile open source content management system available. Plain Black provides a comprehensive list of professional services for WebGUI in a wide variety of projects and applications.

Plain Black specializes in the following:

- Web-sites, intranets, or extranets
- Content management where people who create the content take the responsibility of easily managing it online
- Developing custom applications to match specific business processes (workflows, alerting, reporting, transact, process, etc.,)
- Providing professional services related to WebGUI. This includes design, custom development, deployment, training, support, and hosting.

Additional Organizational Information:

- Company headquarters are in Madison, WI. Our business model allows us to have employees and contractors all over the world to accommodate customer needs.
- Plain Black has been in business since 2001 and is dedicated to providing professional services for the WebGUI content management system.
- There are over 2,000 customers that have purchased products and services from Plain Black Corporation.
- There are over 10,000 deployments worldwide and WebGUI is trusted by Fortune 1000 corporations, domestic and foreign government agencies, universities, school districts, and non-profit organizations.
- Plain Black has several clients that subscribe to the “Rockstar” support services (<https://www.plainblack.com/services/support/rockstar-support>) which is the highest level of support available. Plain Black also provides phone and online service support agreements.
- Plain Black actively develops the WebGUI CMS and a major release is available every year. Minor patches are released throughout the year.